

Advanced Exam Coaching Sessions 2010

(A Manipulation Review Course)

Welcome to the 2010 installment of the Advanced exam coaching session's course. This year's course will run over 5 days. In the first three days we will be going over the majority of the techniques that you are responsible for on the advanced exam. The last two days will be directed at reviewing techniques that are giving the group and individuals the most trouble as well as look at some complicated manipulation scenarios requiring modification to the techniques you have been taught. We will also be doing case directed scenarios to improve your clinical reasoning process that comes with manipulating the spine. The course will run from 8 am till approximately 3 or 4 pm.

Goals & Objectives:

- To improve Handling skills for the spinal manipulation techniques
- Improving body mechanics
- Improving thrust
- Developing visualization techniques for the art of manipulation
- Furthering your clinical reasoning process in the use of manipulation techniques
- Video analysis may be used to demonstrate ideas to the group.
